Dear [Redacted]

Please accept our thanks for making the "On Location" segment of our American Foreign Policy course a success. It is only through the generosity of the people who comprise the Washington component that this course can be offered.

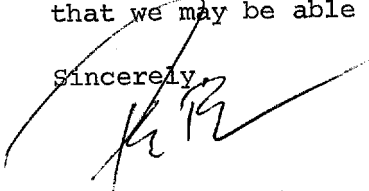

It is difficult to step into such a situation on such short notice, and we appreciate the efforts in making arrangements as well as your candid discussion of the role and function of the CIA analyst.

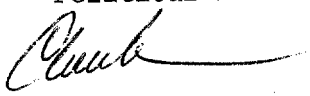

STATINTL

Please convey our appreciation to [Redacted] for taking time to discuss the problems of monitoring and analyzing the actions of the hundreds of groups that have been and are active in terrorist activities.

Again, thank you for your contribution of time and effort, and we hope that we may be able to call upon you in the future.

Sincerely,

Henry P. French, Jr.

[Redacted] sorry to miss you on our seminar visit. Realize, of course, that family matters come first - trust your wife is alright. [Redacted] did a top drawer job. Our students, as always, were most impressed and well informed. Sorry too, to miss the Orioles game - did see the Dips and Cosmos - wait 'til next year!

As we discussed at our meeting on April 23, we are bringing our class of 15 to 20 students to the CIA on Wednesday, June 4 at 2 p.m. A speaker will deal with the topic, "Terrorism as a Political Technique", with a special focus on the Palestinian question, and you agreed to address the group on the role and functions of CIA analysts.

When registration is complete, we will mail a copy of the class list that will contain names and student (social security) numbers.

Enclosed is a course syllabus which includes a brief description, course objectives, schedule of class and Washington meetings, and readings.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

We are looking forward to our meeting in June.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY: ON LOCATION
FREEDOM FIGHTERS OR TERRORISTS?
VIOLENCE AS A POLITICAL TECHNIQUE

Summer, 1980

Dr. Henry P. French, Jr.
Professor of History

Charles R. Salamone
Associate Professor of History and Political Science

- I. Purpose of the Course: Can there be a stable Mideast peace without Palestinian participation? This course will utilize governmental and nongovernmental organizations to examine the role of Palestine nationalist groups in the achievement of such a settlement.

II. Behavioral Objectives

- A. General: Upon completion of the course, the students will understand the major roles and functions of the following in Foreign Policy making.

- The President of the United States
- The National Security Council (NSC)
- The Department of State (DOS)
- The Department of Defense (DOD)
- The Central Intelligence Agency
- The Foreign Service Agency and United States Embassies, Consulates and other diplomatic missions abroad.
- The United States Senate
- The United States House of Representatives and be aware of the Constitutional, statutory, customary and personal relationships between these groups.

- B. Specific: In addition, the students will:

- examine and be aware of major historical, political, economic and religious factors pertinent to the Palestinian homeland question.
- discuss with members of the aforementioned governmental and non-governmental organizations their views of the Israeli-Palestinian relationship.
- compare the advantages and disadvantages of various proposals for the creation of a Palestinian state.
- examine the implications to the United States of the possibility of OPEC's use of withholding or reducing the flow of oil to achieve a political settlement of the Palestine question.
- know the major terms of the Israeli-Egyptian settlement and its implications for further treaties in the region.
- discuss various techniques of violence and counterviolence and their impact on regional stability.
- know the terms of important national and international legislation and agreements such as: The Hijack Conventions of Tokyo, Montreal and the Hague, of the UN Conference on Protected persons and the Omnibus Anti-Terrorism Bill.

*An annotated bibliography will be distributed during the week of May 19.

- IV. Course Requirements and Policy: Because of the nature of the course, we must require that you attend all of the classes, briefing and evaluation sessions and that written work be submitted on the due date. Class attendance is mandatory to insure continuity and promote discussion, and on time written assignments mean that all class participants will receive fair and equal treatment for their work. Work not conforming to the requirements will not be accepted and will be returned ungraded.

Paper Format: Each student will submit an individual paper based on his/her role playing as a member of a group to be determined during the second week of classes. It shall consist of your proposals for dealing with political violence from the viewpoint of the group which you represent. The respective members will also submit a group paper on the same topic.

The individual paper will be 3-5 pages, double spaced with no more than 1" margin on each side and 1½" top and bottom margins. There must be no fewer than five bibliographic sources. A Guide to Bibliographic Form, available free in the library should be used to prepare the bibliography. A title page including the topic, your name and group must accompany the paper. It is due and will be presented Monday, June 16.

The group paper will be similar to the individual papers, except that it should be 5-7 pages.

Each paper will count 1/3 of your final grade.

An essay examination will count the other 1/3 of your final grade. It will be handed out Wednesday, May 28 and completed in class on Wednesday, June 11.

POS 235

SUMMER, 1980

GENERAL INFORMATION SHEET

We will travel by College van to and from Washington. Because of space limitations, and the tendency to bring back more than we went down with, please limit yourself to two pieces of baggage - one suitcase and a small carry-on suitcase.

Clothing is generally casual - please no shorts or cut-offs for the daily sessions. It will be about 75-85° and fairly humid - 80-90% during the day and we may get some rain (bring an umbrella). Evenings will be cooler 60-70°, but will remain humid. If you plan on going out at night, many restaurants require jackets/ties for men, dresses/pant suits for women, and will not allow jeans. There are many less expensive, more casual places, ranging from MacDonald-type to delis, and numerous ethnic restaurants, all within walking distance.

Washington has a broad range of night life. There are numerous stage shows, movies, bars, discos, etc.; something for everyone. Museums, historical sites and art galleries abound - most are free and within walking distance. You are free after the daily seminar, and we suggest a buddy-system when you go out. There are high crime areas in the city.

We will be staying at the Hotel Harrington at 11th, 12th and E Streets, NW, just north of Pennsylvania Avenue. Triple rooms are $11 and doubles $15 per person-per night, tax and baggage handling fees will be about an additional $8-10 per person. You are responsible for any additional charges such as phone calls, etc. from your individual rooms. The phone number is (202) 628-8140.

A schedule has been arranged, and due to the nature of the groups that we visit, it is imperative that we be on time. Therefore reveille will be at 0700 hours (that's 7:00 a.m. for you civilians), to enable ample time to breakfast, assemble and get moving in the same direction. We ask that you strictly adhere to all meeting times. Many of the buildings are secure and you won't be able to get in without the rest of the group.

By all means, bring your cameras, but they will not be allowed in the Congressional galleries, the CIA, and the State Department.

*8% sales tax on the room
$.80 per room/perday occupancy tax
$1.00 per person baggage handling fee
